MY FRIEND VICTORIA

(MON AMIE VICTORIA)
2014, Jean-Paul Civeyrac, France, 95 min.
With Guslagie Malanga, Nadia Moussa

“Poignant and so beautiful... mixes poetic grace with detachment.”
—Jonathan Romney, Film Comment

The Doris Lessing story “Victoria and the Staveneyes” is relocated from London to Paris, where the life of Victoria (Malanga), a young African French woman, is altered by a brief childhood encounter with an affluent white family. The fairytale dreams of the dazzled working-class orphan become the obsession of the beautiful but adrift adult Victoria, whose ambitions are seemingly fulfilled by bearing a child who will bond her to the family forever. In French with English subtitles. DCP digital widescreen. (BS)

CHICAGO PREMIERE!

(aka FRANNY)
2015, Andrew Renzi, USA, 99 min.
With Richard Gere, Dakota Fanning, Theo James

Gere pulls out all the stops in a role tailor-made for his larger-than-life charisma. Five years following a car accident that killed his best friends, mega-rich Philadelphia philanthropist Franny (Gere) reconnects with their daughter (Fanning), pregnant and newly married. Guilt and jealousy masquerade as manic godfatherly affection when the mercurial millionaire showers increasingly lavish gifts on the couple and co-opts the husband’s career in a mysterious dance of seduction. Horse Money

A potentially strained concept is brought off with easygoing élan in this clever and affectionate transposing of Mark Twain’s timeless characters to a modern-day setting. Boys turned young men, Huck Finn is now a world-weary ex-convict and Tom Sawyer an unlikely policeman. Still an inveterate schemer, Tom concocts a dubious plan to locate the legendary Murrell’s Treasure. Also on the trail is their old nemesis Injun Joe, played with Chigurh-like menace by Stephen Lang (AVATAR). DCP digital widescreen. (MR)

2014, Pedro Costa, Portugal, 104 min. With Ventura, Vitalina Varela

“The puzzle-box narrative only grows more hypnotic with repeat viewings.”—Ben Kenigsberg, The New York Times

Ventura, the grizzled Cape Verdean immigrant who has served as director Costa’s muse and central character in films including COLOSSAL YOUTH, returns in an even more commanding role. Mysteriously at death’s door, Ventura takes an eerie journey through dark episodes in his own life as they coalesce with Portugal’s troubling colonial past. LAMB

2015, Ross Partridge, USA, 96 min. With Ross Partridge, Oona Laurence

“Navigates risky material with assurance, delicacy and a deepening sense of intimacy…superbly shot and movingly acted.”
—Justin Chang, Variety

In this daringly provocative film adapted from the novel by Bonnie Nadzam, David Lamb (actor-director Partridge), a businessman whose personal life is hitting the skids, forms a strangely obsessive friendship with a precocious but neglected eleven-year-old girl (Laurence, in a brilliant performance), coaxing the girl into his fantasy world with slippery logic and a virtual abduction to a mountain cabin. “★★★★ An essential documentary.”
—Alan Zilberman, Washington Post

“A powerful critique of celebratory war myth, CENSORED VOICES reveals the long-buried testimony of young Israeli soldiers in the wake of the 1967 Six-Day War. Intimate interviews conducted in 1967 by authors Amos Oz and Avraham Shapira are played back to the interviewees in the present, as they react emotionally to the secret guilt they bear for carnage, persecution of Palestinian refugees, and savage treatment of conquered foes. A PERFECT DAY

2015, Fernando León de Aranoa, Spain, 106 min.
With Benicio del Toro, Tim Robbins, Olga Kurylenko

Director Aranoa (MONDAYS IN THE SUN) keeps the story ricocheting between anguish and absurdity in this dark tragicomedy in the irreverent spirit of MASH. A band of foreign aid workers—jaded Mambrú (Del Toro), cynical smartass B (Robbins), French newbie Sophie (Melanie Thierry), and tough administrator Katya (Kurylenko)—navigate a hazardous 24-hour day in the Bosnian boondocks in the wake of the Balkan conflict. ANESTHESIA

2015, Tim Blake Nelson, USA, 90 min.
With Sam Waterston, Kristen Stewart, Glenn Close

One violent act cuts through a Gordian knot of a plot, revealing the interconnectedness of several small dramas that play out in an upscale Manhattan neighborhood. Director Nelson (THE GREY ZONE) weaves an intricate web, balanced between serious drama and satire, as a man agonizes over his wife’s cancer scare, their precocious teens get high on the roof, a neighbor cheats on his alcoholic wife, a depressed grad-student resorts to a dangerous remedy, and addiction threatens a man of feisty intellect. A BALLERINA’S TALE

Ballet is one of the last bastions of white supremacy, and its Jackie Robinson is the immensely talented Misty Copeland. This engrossing documentary traces the history of ballet’s overwhelming whiteness while following Misty’s progress through underprivileged childhood, late start as a novice dancer, and struggles with isolation, eating disorder, and career-threatening injury, as she rises through the ranks of the American Ballet Theatre in a bid to become its first African American principal dancer. PETER ASCOLI IN PERSON!

2015, Aviva Kempner, USA, 96 min.

“Rich and fascinating biography.”

Before the appearance of this acclaimed documentary, Jewish philanthropist Julius Rosenwald had been largely forgotten—except within the African American community. A Russian peddler’s son who made a fortune running Sears, Roebuck & Co., his ingeniously financed Rosenwald Schools provided unprecedented learning opportunities for black children in rural communities, and his Rosenwald Fund nurtured the careers of a veritable who’s who of “talented tenth” eminences. APICHATPONG WEERASETHAKUL
IN PERSON!
(RAK TI KHON KAEN)
2015, Apichatpong Weerasethakul, Thailand, 122 min.

Cannes Palme d’Or winner (UNCLE BOONMEE...) and SAIC grad Weerasethakul again proves masterful at exploring the intersection of the human and spirit worlds in a film of delicate, sumptuous beauty. Soldiers lie stricken by a mysterious sleeping sickness, as the subtle theme of healing assisted by otherworldly forces encompasses a hospital volunteer, a psychic, and an awakened soldier. In Thai with English subtitles. DCP digital. (BS)

Weerasethakul will be present for discussion on Monday, initiating “Radiant Visions: Media Art from SAIC, 1965–Now,” a month-long series of films and artist appearances celebrating the 150th anniversary of the School of the Art Institute of Chicago. Presented in collaboration with SAIC’s Department of Film, Video, New Media, and Animation.

SUFFRAGETTE

2015, Sarah Gavron, UK, 106 min.
With Carey Mulligan, Helena Bonham Carter, Meryl Streep

“The year’s best superhero movie that doesn’t star a bunch of guys.”—Eric Kohn, Indiewire

The heroism that attended women’s fight for the vote is brought home through the 1912-set story of a young London laundress (Mulligan)—uneducated, worked to the bone, and sexually harassed—who is drawn to the message of self-determination preached by fearless leaders including Emmeline Pankhurst (Streep). HEART OF A DOG

2015, Laurie Anderson, USA, 75 min.

“★★★★ I loved it...sparkles with its creator’s wisdom and droll philosophical insight.”—Michael Phillips, Chicago Tribune

Artist/musician/performer Anderson turns to the form of intimate memoir and associative collage, using her late beloved pooch Lolabelle as the jumping-off point for a wide-ranging, funny, moving, and Buddhistically serene contemplation of the way we live now, her own life, and the deaths that have recently haunted it (including her dog, her mother, and her husband, Lou Reed). Shortlisted for the Oscar for Best Documentary Feature. DCP digital. (MR)

BACK BY POPULAR DEMAND! RONIT BEZALEL IN PERSON!

70 ACRES IN CHICAGO: CABRINI GREEN

2015, Ronit Bezalel, USA, 53 min.
Hailed as a public-housing triumph and demonized as an urban disaster, Cabrini Green was demolished, then repackaged as a “mixed income” development, where the former, largely black residents have been marginalized or driven away. Bezalel celebrates the spirit of a unique community and mourns its destruction in this follow-up to her celebrated 1999 short VOICES OF CABRINI (33 min.), which is included in the program. DCP digital.

THE KID
1921, Charles Chaplin, USA, 54 min.
With Charles Chaplin, Jackie Coogan
Tuesday, February 2,
6:00 pm
Chaplin’s first feature-length film, THE KID also represents his first major attempt at blending comedy and pathos. The Little Tramp raises an abandoned boy (Coogan) but orphanage officials want to pull them apart. Silent film with synchronized music score. 35mm. Plus a short film TBA (ca. 20 min.). (MR)

This series investigates the meaning of the image of the child in cinema. It is not about the genre of the children’s film or children’s media. Instead, it will consider the function children perform in film, the meanings ascribed to childhood, how ideas about childhood change historically, and what kids tell us about our ideas on gender, sexuality, race, and class. Films planned for inclusion include William Wyler’s DEAD END, François Truffaut’s THE 400 BLOWS, Shirley Clarke’s THE COOL WORLD, Robert Mulligan’s THE OTHER, Kim Nguyen’s WAR WITCH, and Richard Linklater’s BOYHOOD.
—Pamela Robertson Wojcik

THE CHILD IN CINEMA

Lecturer: Pamela Robertson Wojcik
From February 2 through May 10, we offer a series of fourteen programs entitled The Child In Cinema, with weekly Tuesday lectures by Pamela Robertson Wojcik, Director of Gender Studies at Notre Dame University and author of The Apartment Plot and an in-progress book on the urban child in cinema. The series is presented in cooperation with the School of the Art Institute of Chicago’s Department of Art History, Theory, and Criticism. Additional screenings of the films on Friday or Saturday do not include Prof. Wojcik’s lecture. Admission to all The Child in Cinema programs is $5 for Film Center members; usual admission prices apply for non-members.

ORION: THE MAN WHO WOULD BE KING, Jan. 2, 5

A film critic seeks the real-life models for the comic-book teens who were his childhood idols in ARCHIE’S BETTY, while the tragic tale of the lounge singer whose career was burdened by his vocal twinship with Elvis unreels in ORION: THE MAN WHO WOULD BE KING. The filmmaker who became known as “the father of African cinema” is profiled in SEMBENE!, and the maverick artists who created a movement are detailed in TROUBLEMAKERS: THE STORY OF LAND ART.

Chicagoan Holly De Ruyter appears with her delightfully nostalgic OLD-FASHIONED: THE STORY OF THE WISCONSIN SUPPER CLUB. Former Chicagoan Annika Iltis and co-director Tim Kane appear with THE BARKLEY MARATHONS: THE RACE THAT EATS ITS YOUNG, their chronicle of the world’s most eccentric marathon. Another former Chicagoan, director Holly Morris, appears with THE BABUSHKAS OF CHERNOBYL, a moving account of the grandmothers who refuse to evacuate the Ukraine’s radiation-poisoned “Dead Zone.”

British comic Russell Brand is seen as a firebrand crusader for income equality in Michael Winterbottom’s THE EMPEROR’S NEW CLOTHES. WESTERN explores the threatened friendship of two bicultural towns separated by the Rio Grande. ALL THINGS MUST PASS: THE RISE AND FALL OF TOWER RECORDS is sure to resonate with anyone who fondly remembers the fabled music mecca.

Be sure to check our website for updates on personal appearances.

—Barbara Scharres

ARCHIE’S BETTY
2015, Gerald Peary, USA, 70 min.

Sunday, January 3, 3:00 pm
Thursday, January 7, 6:00 pm

A youthful obsession with the Archie comic strip, originated by cartoonist Bob Montana, becomes an adult passion for Boston journalist and filmmaker Peary. He goes in search of the real people who may have been the prototypes for Montana’s iconic teens, including red-headed Archie, alluring social butterflies Betty and Veronica, and goofball sidekick Jughead.

ORION: THE MAN WHO WOULD BE KING
2015, Jeanie Finlay, UK, 86 min.

Saturday, January 2, 7:45 pm
Tuesday, January 5, 8:00 pm

ORION traces the bizarre star-crossed history of Jimmy Ellis, a would-be lounge singer whose gift and curse was to be an uncanny Elvis sound-alike. Success eluded Jimmy until a shady promoter repackaged him as Orion, performing Elvis-like, but in a glittering mask. Adulation and fame prove heavy burdens behind the mask. DCP digital. (BS)
Stranger Than Fiction

WESTERN
2015, Bill Ross IV and Turner Ross, Mexico/USA, 92 min.

Friday, January 8, 6:00 pm
Thursday, January 14, 8:00 pm

The Ross brothers (TCHOUPITOULAS) explore the combined celebrations, traditions, and livelihoods of two towns, Eagle Pass, Texas, and Piedras Negras, Mexico, facing each other across the Rio Grande, as the shadow of violent change threatens their easygoing biculturalism. DCP digital. (BS)

THE EMPEROR’S NEW CLOTHES
2015, Michael Winterbottom, UK, 101 min. With Russell Brand

Saturday, January 9, 7:45 pm
Thursday, January 14, 6:00 pm

British comedian Brand teams up with director Winterbottom (THE TRIP) for a stand-up activist’s view of the financial crisis. True to form, the irreverent performer storms the bastions of the rich and powerful, brandishing a megaphone à la Michael Moore. DCP digital. (BS)

SEMBENE!
2015, Samba Gadjigo and Jason Silverman, USA/Senegal, 86 min.

Friday, January 15, 8:30 pm
Thursday, January 21, 7:45 pm

With only a fifth-grade education, Senegalese filmmaker Ousmane Sembene (1923-2007) became the father of African cinema. SEMBENE! brings a raw truthfulness to its portrait of a complex and driven man. In English, French, and Wolof with English subtitles. DCP digital. (BS)

MOANA

WITH SOUND

1926, Robert Flaherty, USA, 98 min.

Sunday, January 17, 3:00 pm
Tuesday, January 19, 6:00 pm

“A film of incomparable calm and beauty.”
—Alan Scherstuhl, Village Voice

Flaherty’s follow-up to NANOOK OF THE NORTH is an idealized vision of South Seas life centered loosely on the coming-of-age of the young man Moana. Originally silent, MOANA has been beautifully restored with the addition of sounds recorded on the original Samoan locations by Flaherty’s daughter Monica and Richard Leacock. DCP digital. (MR)
From January 2 through February 3, the Gene Siskel Film Center presents Seijun Suzuki: Branded to Thrill, a ten-film retrospective of the cult Japanese director whose colorful and iconoclastic style brought him both popularity and notoriety.

Suzuki (1923-) worked almost exclusively in the yakuza (gangster) genre throughout his early career at Nikkatsu Studio. His progressively idiosyncratic approach to genre conventions resulted in his public dismissal in 1968—a decision that angered his youthful fans and triggered demonstrations in his support.

Suzuki’s films are profoundly modern in their alienation, kineticism, and spirit of rebellion. Taking the subliminal messages of pop culture seriously, he guides his fiction many steps beyond reality, fomenting moral chaos expressed through deliriously sublime visual excess.

Visually, Suzuki’s work is extraordinary by any standard. He is one of the great masters of the widescreen format, and he has devised his own multi-dimensional layering of the film frame, both laterally and through complex manipulation of depth of field.

A first viewing of a Suzuki film may leave the viewer reaching for familiar comparisons: the narrative drive of Sam Fuller, the audacious genre stylization of Quentin Tarantino, the kineticism of John Woo. Make no mistake, Suzuki is an original—a man hired to do the job of a studio hack who transformed his material into personal, transcendent works of art.

The traveling Suzuki retrospective is programmed by Tom Vick, Curator of Film, Freer and Sackler Galleries, Smithsonian Institution, and co-organized with the Japan Foundation. Additional thanks to: Brian Belovarac, Janus Films; Mami Furukawa, Nikkatsu; Azusa Taki, Shochiku; and Kanako Shirasaki, Japan Foundation, New York.

BRANDED TO KILL
(KOROSHI NO RAKUIN)
1967, Seijun Suzuki, Japan, 91 min.
With Jo Shishido, Kôji Nanbara
Saturday, January 2, 3:45 pm
Wednesday, January 6, 8:00 pm

This brilliantly cold and absurdist gangster saga got Suzuki fired from Nikkatsu Studio. Energetic imagery ties sexuality to violence at every turn, as Goro (Shishido), Number Three Killer in the Tokyo underworld, is callously used by a gang boss who cuckolds him. Facing down Number One as punishment for flubbing a hit, Goro is himself marked for death. In Japanese with English subtitles. DCP digital widescreen. (BS)

YOUTH OF THE BEAST

With Jo Shishido, Misako Watanabe
Saturday, January 2, 5:45 pm
Monday, January 4, 6:00 pm

This is widely considered Suzuki’s breakthrough film, the first one in which he torpedoes genre conventions with baroque bursts of subversive stylization. Oddball tough guy Shishido plays a revenge-bent mystery man who insinuates himself, YOJIMBO-style, between two rival Yakuza gangs and leverages them into an orgy of mutual destruction. In Japanese with English subtitles. 35mm widescreen. (MR)

The sordid life of Maya, a woman forced into prostitution by the circumstances of war, unleashes the color and violence of Suzuki’s vision. Mixing hyperrealism with garish fantasy, he propels an already dark and chaotic story to a hellish crisis.

In Japanese with English subtitles. 35mm widescreen.  (BS)

This dazzling adventure in genre deconstruction is embellished with borrowings from MGM musicals and manga comic books, as a yakuza gunman trying to go straight gets caught up in a gang war that forces him to flee Tokyo. In Japanese with English subtitles. DCP digital widescreen. (MR)

In the most overtly personal project of Suzuki’s Nikkatsu period, rambunctious adolescent Kiroku’s raging lust for a pure Christian girl finds an outlet in gang violence and sweeps him into the rising tide of Japanese militarism in the 1930s. In Japanese with English subtitles. 35mm widescreen. (MR)
CARMEN FROM KAWACHI
(KAWACHI KARUMEN)
1966, Seijun Suzuki, Japan, 89 min.
With Yumiko Nogawa, Kôji Wada
Saturday, January 23, 3:00 pm
Wednesday, January 27, 7:45 pm

The heroine of this raucous romp has little in common with her operatic namesake. Suzuki’s Carmen is a scrappy rustic girl who sets out for the big city, where she perseveres resiliently through a series of comic-erotic misadventures. In Japanese with English subtitles. 35mm widescreen. (MR)

SMASHING THE O-LINE
(TOGE O WATARU WAKAI KAZE)
1961, Seijun Suzuki, Japan, 83 min.
With Kôji Wada, Shin Morikawa
Saturday, January 23, 4:45 pm
Monday, January 25, 6:00 pm

Suzuki enlivens this hardboiled crime saga with sleazy energy and subversive morality, as two newsmen—one conscientious, but not as effective as his unscrupulous rival—vie to expose a drugs-cum-immigrant-smuggling racket. In Japanese with English subtitles. 35mm widescreen. (MR)

PISTOL OPERA
(PISUTORU OPERA)
2001, Seijun Suzuki, Japan, 112 min.
With Makiko Esumi
Saturday, January 30, 3:00 pm

Suzuki’s semi-remake of BRANDED TO KILL is his most extravagant exercise in sheer style—a non-stop barrage of aestheticized violence, perverse sexuality, and ravishing set pieces, as a black-clad hit woman, ranked #3 in her field, pursues the elusive #1. In Japanese with English subtitles. 35mm. (MR)

KANTO WANDERER
(KANTÔ MUSHUKU)
1963, Seijun Suzuki, Japan, 92 min.
With Akira Kobayashi
Saturday, January 30, 5:15 pm
Monday, February 1, 6:00 pm

Classical style increasingly gives way to startling Kabuki flourishes of lighting and color in this key middle-period Suzuki, in which an honorable yakuza is drawn to a mature female card sharp whose ties to rival gang compromise his loyalty. In Japanese with English subtitles. 35mm widescreen. (MR)
March 4-31, 2016

The largest festival in the nation showcasing films of the European Union nations, the festival annually presents Chicago premieres of more than 60 new feature films from the 28 EU nations. With The Netherlands in the presidency of the EU, our festival will open with a very special Dutch film to be announced soon.

Highlights of the festival confirmed to date include SUNSET SONG (UK) by Terence Davies, and WONDEROUS BOCCACCIO (Italy) by the Taviani brothers, as well as THE GIRL KING (Finland) by Mika Kaurismäki, and the feature animation PHANTOM BOY (France), new from the directors of the popular A CAT IN PARIS.

THE HIGH SUN (Croatia/Slovenia), a Cannes prizewinner, tops our growing roster of official Academy Awards submissions including MODRIS (Latvia) and KOZA (Slovenia). GLASSLAND (Ireland) was awarded a Special Jury Prize at Sundance, and FREE ENTRY (Hungary) won the SXSW festival Gamechanger Award. Unique independent film selections include the bittersweet comedy FAMILY MEMBER (Cyprus) and the maverick documentary HEARTS KNOW * THE RUNAWAY BRIDES (Netherlands). A special celebration will accompany the U.S. premiere of 1916: THE IRISH REBELLION (Ireland), produced by Notre Dame University.

The 19th Annual Chicago European Union Film Festival brings the vibe of Europe’s movie culture as close as your theater seat. Be there!

CHICAGO PREMIERE!

EVERY THING WILL BE FINE

2015, Wim Wenders, Germany/Canada/ France, 118 min.
With James Franco, Rachel McAdams, Charlotte Gainsbourg

“Shot with heart-stopping, edge-of-seat precision... blending the cosmic with thriller themes.”
—Deborah Young, Hollywood Reporter

Wenders (WINGS OF DESIRE, PINA) makes an atypical foray into a tightly wound drama of guilt and self-recrimination. Tomas (Franco), a novelist with writer’s block in a waning relationship, causes a fatal accident that will haunt his life for a decade. Subsequent success provides no balm for the writer, who finds acceptance briefly in the company of the victim’s artist mother (Gainsbourg), only to become the target of retribution by another party to the tragedy. DCP digital widescreen. (BS)
