Two-time Oscar-winner Kevin Spacey (AMERICAN BEAUTY, THE USUAL SUSPECTS) and Oscar-winning director Sam Mendes (AMERICAN BEAUTY) are reunited at the center of this rousing documentary that combines the power of an innovative production of Shakespeare’s Richard III, the thrill of offstage asides, and the colorful sweep of a travelogue. Join Mendes’s Bridge Project, the first transatlantic theater company, for a whirlwind backstage tour that kicks off at London’s fabled Old Vic and ends in New York ten months later, after stops in Europe, Asia, and the Middle East. DCP digital. (BS)

Kevin Spacey will be present for audience discussion on Saturday at 8:00 pm [SOLD OUT]; Tickets for Theater 2, with Spacey’s Q&A streamed live, are still available. No free passes or blue tickets will be valid.

May 2—8
Fri. at 6:15 pm and 8:15 pm;

BRIGHT DAYS AHEAD
(LES BEAUX JOURS)
2013, Marion Vernoux France, 94 min.
With Fanny Ardant, Laurent Lafitte, Patrick Chesnais

“Tender and terrifically cast…with Ardant showcasing the charms that made her one of France’s most seductive stars.”—Jordan Mintzer, Hollywood Reporter

The marvelously youthful Fanny Ardant, long the muse of French masters including François Truffaut and Alain Resnais, is more ingénue than cougar in BRIGHT DAYS AHEAD. Caroline (Ardant), a recently retired married dentist with mischief in her heart, finds classes at a local seniors’ club a suffocating bore until Julien (Lafitte), the randy young computer coach, makes the scene. A loopy lunch escalates into a hot affair but has the down side of burning bridges when Caroline’s patient husband (Chesnais) finally sees the light. In French with English subtitles. DCP digital. (BS)

May 9—15
Fri. at 6:00 pm; Sat. at 3:00 pm and 7:45 pm; Sun. at 5:00 pm;

From May 4 through July 3, the Gene Siskel Film Center hosts Martin Scorsese Presents: Masterpieces of Polish Cinema, a series of seventeen films from some of Poland’s most accomplished and lauded filmmakers, spanning the period from 1957–1987.

In December 2011, filmmaker Martin Scorsese traveled to Poland to accept an honorary doctoral degree from The Polish National Film, Television, and Theatre School in Łódź. There, Mr. Scorsese met with digital restoration expert Jedrzej Sabliński, and the two men came up with the idea of a North American tour of a series of restored Polish cinema classics. Chosen by Mr. Scorsese from an extensive catalogue of digitally restored films, each film has been digitally re-mastered and brilliantly restored on newly subtitled DCPs. The program was created and organized by Mr. Scorsese’s non-profit organization, The Film Foundation.

Martin Scorsese Presents: Masterpieces of Polish Cinema was organized by Propaganda Foundation, DI Factory, CRF and The Film Foundation. In cooperation with: Kino RP, Milestone Films, Tor, Zebra and Kadr. With the support of the Ministry of Culture and National Heritage of the Republic of Poland, the Polish Film Institute and the Polish National Audiovisual Institute.

THE SARAGOSSA MANUSCRIPT

(REKOPIS ZNALEZIONY W SARAGOSSIE)

1964, Wojciech J. Has, Poland, 184 min.

With Zbigniew Cybulski, Iga Cembrzynska

Sunday, May 4, 3:00 pm
Monday, May 5, 6:30 pm

Poland’s greatest cult film stars its greatest cult actor (Cybulski) as a Napoleonic officer who takes refuge in a Spanish inn. There he becomes entranced by a magical manuscript that draws him into a labyrinth of dreams-within-dreams and tales-within-tales, involving priests, sheiks, demons, Gypsies, and beautiful Arabian princesses. In Polish with English subtitles. DCP digital. Note: There will be a ten-minute intermission. (MR)

ASHES AND DIAMONDS

(POPIOL I DIAMENT)

1958, Andrzej Wajda, Poland, 104 min.

With Zbigniew Cybulski, Ewa Krzyżewska

Sunday, May 11, 3:00 pm
Wednesday, May 14, 6:00 pm

The film that put Polish cinema on the map, ASHES spoke for an entire generation that came of age amid the moral confusion of postwar Soviet domination. On the final day of WWII, Maciek (Cybulski), a cynical hipster and undercover Resistance fighter, is given one final assignment: to assassinate a newly appointed Communist official. In Polish with English subtitles. DCP digital. (BS)

SUNDAY DOUBLE-BILL DISCOUNT!

Buy a ticket at our regular prices for the first Polish film on any Sunday in May or June, and get a ticket for the second Polish film that day at the discounted rate with proof of your original full-price purchase: General Admission $7; Students $5; Members $4. (This discount rate applies to the second film only.)

JUMP
(SALTO)
1965, Tadeusz Konwicki, Poland, 105 min.
With Zbigniew Cybulski, Marta Lipinska
Sunday, May 11, 5:00 pm
Monday, May 12, 7:45 pm

JUMP is a tantalizing existential mystery that hops nimbly between allegory and black comedy. It begins with the hero (Cybulski) jumping off a moving train and making his way to a small town where he lived during the war. Or did he? Is his character an imposter, a fugitive, a prophet, an avenger, a ghost, or just an ordinary schmuck? In Polish with English subtitles. DCP digital. (MR)

A SHORT FILM ABOUT KILLING
(KROTNI FILM O ZABIJANIU)
1987, Krzysztof Kieslowski, Poland, 85 min.
With Boguslaw Linda, Tadeusz Lomnicki
Sunday, May 18, 3:00 pm
Monday, May 19, 6:00 pm

A film admired by both Stanley Kubrick and Martin Scorsese, A SHORT FILM ABOUT KILLING fastens a moral Gordian knot tight around three characters linked by murder: a shiftless teenager looking for trouble, a hard-boiled cabdriver, and a young lawyer just out of school. In Polish with English subtitles. DCP digital. (BS)

BLIND CHANCE
(PRZYPADEK)
1987, Krzysztof Kieslowski, Poland, 122 min.
With Boguslaw Linda, Tadeusz Lomnicki
Sunday, May 18, 4:45 pm
Thursday, May 22, 6:00 pm

The arbitrary nature of fate, one of Kieslowski's favorite themes, drives three alternative versions of a man's life. Each episode begins with medical student Witek (Linda, Poland's top male star) running for a train to Warsaw, which he either 1) catches; 2) misses because he's stopped by a security guard; or 3) misses but meets a girl. In Polish with English subtitles. DCP digital. (BS)

PHARAOH
(FARAON)
1965, Jerzy Kawalerowicz, Poland, 151 min.
With Jerzy Zelnik, Piotr Pawlowski
Sunday, May 25, 3:00 pm
Thursday, May 29, 6:00 pm

Long available only in dubbed, truncated, and color-faded versions, this sophisticated, visually stunning epic has been restored to its full glory. Rameses, son of the current pharaoh, tries to break the priesthood's stranglehold upon the kingdom but is undermined by bankers, a seductive priestess, palace intrigue, and his own weaknesses. In Polish with English subtitles. DCP digital. (MR)
EROICA
1957, Andrzej Munk, Poland, 85 min.
With Edward Dziewonski, Józef Nowak
Sunday, May 25, 5:45 pm
Wednesday, May 28, 8:00 pm
Directed by one of Polish cinema’s foremost satirists, EROICA’s two contrasting episodes are united by their irreverent attitude toward the Warsaw Uprising of 1944. The first follows a cynical hedonist who becomes caught up in the resistance; the second is set in a prison camp where demoralized POWs cling to a dubious legend of heroism. In Polish with English subtitles. DCP digital. (MR)

CAMOUFLAGE
(BARWY OCHRONNE)
1976, Krzysztof Zanussi, Poland, 100 min.
With Piotr Garlicki, Zbigniew Zapasiewicz
Sunday, June 1, 3:00 pm
Wednesday, June 4, 6:00 pm
With a background in physics, Zanussi brought a uniquely observant and analytical sensibility to Polish cinema. Set at a linguistics seminar, this dark comedy centers on Jarek, an idealistic junior faculty member, and Jakub, a Machiavellian professor who attaches himself to the younger man—perhaps to mentor him, perhaps to destroy him. In Polish with English subtitles. DCP digital. (MR)

THE CONSTANT FACTOR
(CONSTANS)
1980, Krzysztof Zanussi, Poland, 90 min.
With Tadeusz Bradecki, Zofia Mozowska
Sunday, June 1, 5:00 pm
Monday, June 2, 6:00 pm
Winner of the Jury Prize at Cannes, this uncompromising critique of idealism centers on a young electrician who yearns for the purity of mathematics and the remote Himalayan peaks where his father, a noted mountain-climber, died. Instead, he finds himself coming unstuck in a world filled with petty corruption, confusion, disease, and injustice. In Polish with English subtitles. DCP digital. (MR)

THE WIND RISES
2013, Hayao Miyazaki, Japan, 126 min.

“Hauntingly beautiful.”
—Scott Foundas, Variety

“If this is indeed Miyazaki’s farewell, it’s a fine one.”
—Michael Phillips, Chicago Tribune

Studio Ghibli’s animation wizard Hayao Miyazaki (SPIRITED AWAY) has declared THE WIND RISES his final film. This breathtaking historical drama soars on the wings of his imagination as Jiro, a Japanese boy obsessed with airplanes, grows up to design them, even as they become the machines of war. Jiro’s dreams and loves are interwoven with cataclysmic events (including the 1923 Kanto earthquake) and the most startling and inspiring images of flight that Miyazaki has yet produced. In English with voices by Joseph Gordon-Levitt, Emily Blunt, and Stanley Tucci. Also, in Japanese with English subtitles at selected shows [*]. DCP digital. (BS)

New 35mm print!

JE T’AIME, JE T’AIME
1968, Alain Resnais, France, 91 min.
With Claude Rich, Olga Georges-Picot

Friday, May 23, 6:00 pm
Monday, May 26, 6:00 pm

In Resnais’s haunting, brilliantly edited sci-fi drama, a suicidal writer volunteers for a high-risk time-travel experiment. When the apparatus malfunctions, he is sent tumbling through the maze of his memories. In French with English subtitles. 35mm. A Film Desk/Bleeding Light Film Group Release. (MR)
On consecutive Tuesdays from May 13 through June 10, the Gene Siskel Film Center collaborates with Human Rights Watch to present the 2014 Human Rights Watch Film Festival. Through the eyes of committed and courageous filmmakers the festival showcases the heroic stories of activists and survivors from all over the world facing human rights issues. The featured works put a human face on threats to individual freedom and dignity, and celebrate the power of the human spirit and will to prevail.

Discussion with filmmakers is a key component of this year’s festival. Confirmed guest appearances are noted with film descriptions. Check www.siskelfilmcenter.org for updates.

Chicago premiere!
Eric Montalvo in person!

THE KILL TEAM
2013, Dan Krauss, USA, 79 min.

Tuesday, May 13, 6:30 pm
In 2010, a rogue crew of U.S. troops in Afghanistan slaughtered innocent civilians for sport and kept grisly trophies of their atrocities. This starkly unnerving documentary focuses on the complex moral issues surrounding 20-year-old whistleblower Adam Winfield, who was himself put on trial for war crimes after exposing the activities of his fellow soldiers. DCP digital. (BS)

Defense attorney Eric Montalvo, featured in the film, and Andrea Prasow, Senior National Security Counsel and Advocate for Human Rights Watch, will be present for audience discussion.

Chicago premiere!
Faraz Sanei in person!

SEPIDEH
2013, Berit Madsen, Denmark/Norway, 90 min.

Tuesday, May 20, 6:30 pm
A young woman’s right to self-determination meets challenges in Iran’s conservative male-oriented culture in this Sundance Festival favorite. When an Iranian teenager follows her passion for astronomy, she provokes a host of conflicting reactions within her strict religious family, her school, and her community. In Persian and English with English subtitles. DCP digital. (BS)

Faraz Sanei, Iran researcher for Human Rights Watch, will be present for audience discussion.
MAY 2014

VALENTINE ROAD, May 27

In 2008, a California eighth-grader shot a fellow student point blank in the back of the head, setting off a press firestorm in which white supremacy and homosexuality were central issues. Director Cunningham powerfully probes the depths of the tragedy and its aftermath, revealing the shockingly divided attitudes toward the crime in the boys’ school and community. DCP digital. (BS)

Director Marta Cunningham and Elizabeth Calvin, Senior Advocate for Human Rights Watch’s Children’s Rights Division, will be present for audience discussion.

THE SUPREME PRICE

Tuesday, May 3, 6:30 pm

This tense saga tells the inside story of an epic battle for human rights in one of Africa’s most unstable nations. Director Lipper charts the perilous evolution of the pro-democracy movement in Nigeria, focusing on activist Hafsat Abiola, who returns to her embattled home to take up the cause of her martyred parents in the fight for democracy and women’s rights. DCP digital. (BS)

Director Joanna Lipper will be present for audience discussion.

RETURN TO HOMS, June 10

The resistance to Syria’s Bashar al-Assad becomes horrifyingly visceral in this tale of two insurgents: cameraman Ossama and soccer star “Basset.” The ragged look of the video footage underlines the imminent danger as the movement evolves from the giddy optimism to grim reality. Note: Contains brutal violence and graphic content. In Arabic with English subtitles. DCP digital. (BS)

Sarah Leah Whitson, Director of the Middle East and North Africa Division for Human Rights Watch, will be present for audience discussion.

Afternoon of a Faun

Tanaquil Le Clercq

In 1956, prima ballerina Tanaquil Le Clercq was at the peak of her career. Choreographer Jerome Robbins adored her; George Balanchine married her. Then Le Clercq contracted polio. She was never to walk or dance again, but she recreated herself as an author and teacher. This memorable chronicle of an extraordinary life includes rare performance footage of her major roles, as well as interviews that include her former dance partner Jacques d’Amboise. DCP digital. (BS)

May 9—15

Fri. and Wed. at 8:00 pm; Sat. at 1:00 pm, 5:00 pm, and 7:45 pm; Sun. at 3:00 pm; Mon. and Tue. at 6:00 pm; Thu. at 6:00 pm and 8:00 pm

“Strangely haunting, and often heartbreaking.”—Hedy Weiss, Chicago Sun-Times

2013, Nancy Buirski, USA, 91 min.

164 North State Street. Tickets: Go to our website for on-line ticket purchasing information. For more information, visit us online at: www.siskelfilmcenter.org or call 312-846-2800.
From April 5 through May 15, the Gene Siskel Film Center, in partnership with Luce Cinecittà, Rome; Fondo Pier Paolo Pasolini/Cineteca di Bologna; and the Italian Cultural Institute of Chicago, presents Pier Paolo Pasolini: The Eyes of a Poet, a 12-film series commemorating the Italian poet, novelist, political thinker, and film director whose life was cut short by a violent death in 1975. Most of the films are not in distribution in the U.S., and all are being screened in new 35mm prints.

Deliberately provocative, often controversial, Pasolini’s innovative work was informed by his Marxist philosophy, mystical spirituality, and compassion for the plight of working-class people. Pasolini’s commitment to proletarian themes, combined with an unrelenting rejection of middle-class values, was expressed through films drawn from very diverse sources, including Greek drama, the Bible, medieval literature, Arabian folk tales, and contemporary political issues.

The “Trilogy of Life,” consisting of THE DECAMERON, THE CANTERBURY TALES, and THE ARABIAN NIGHTS, demonstrated Pasolini’s exploration of social and moral codes through bawdy and sometimes violent tales. The series concludes with the last feature Pasolini completed before his death, SALÒ OR THE 120 DAYS OF SODOM, in which the filmmaker began a harsh and startling reexamination of many of the themes of his earlier career.

Co-produced by the Gene Siskel Film Center; Luce Cinecittà, Rome; and Fondo Pier Paolo Pasolini/Cineteca di Bologna.

Pier Paolo Pasolini: The Eyes of a Poet is organized by the Gene Siskel Film Center; and by Camilla Cormanni and Paola Ruggiero, Luce Cinecittà; with Roberto Chiesi, Fondo Pier Paolo Pasolini/Cineteca di Bologna. Presented in association with the Ministry of Culture of Italy. Special thanks to Silvio Marchetti and Andrea Rasò, the Italian Cultural Institute of Chicago.

All copies in 35mm in Italian with English subtitles realized by Luce Cinecittà, unless otherwise noted.

ARABIAN NIGHTS, May 2, 3

ARABIAN NIGHTS (IL FIORE DELLE MILLE E UNA NOTTE)

1974, Pier Paolo Pasolini, Italy, 129 min.
With Ninetto Davoli, Tessa Bouche

Friday, May 2, 6:00 pm

Saturday, May 3, 3:00 pm

The final entry in Pasolini’s “Trilogy of Life” is a playful, inventively structured adaptation of the Arabic anthology. The film interweaves ten tales, linking them through the framing story of a free-spirited slave girl who chooses a new master, gets kidnapped, disguises herself as a man, and becomes a king. In Italian with English subtitles. 35mm. Note: Adult content may offend some viewers. (MR)

LOVE MEETINGS (COMIZI D’AMORE)

1964, Pier Paolo Pasolini, Italy, 90 min.
With Pier Paolo Pasolini

Saturday, May 3, 5:30 pm

In this fascinating cinéma-vérité experiment, Pasolini sets out across Italy to question people about their attitudes toward sex and love. The answers are strongly inflected by class, region, and gender, but on the whole Pasolini discovers that the country remains sexually backward—a situation that the director’s own films would do much to address. In Italian with English subtitles. 35mm. (MR)

PASOLINI DOUBLE-BILL DISCOUNT!

Buy a ticket at our regular prices for the first Pasolini film on either May 3 or May 10, and get a ticket for the second Pasolini film that day at the discounted rate with proof of your original full-price purchase: General Admission $7; Students $5; Members $4. (This discount rate applies to the second film only.)
PIGSTY, May 10

PIGSTY
(PORCILE)
1969, Pier Paolo Pasolini, Italy, 98 min.
With Pierre Clémenti, Jean-Pierre Léaud

Saturday, May 10, 3:00 pm

Two mirroring stories revolve around the theme of consuming and being consumed. One is set in modern-day Germany, where Julian (Léaud), son of a former Nazi, prefers the charms of pigs to those of his fiancée. The second is set in a nameless desert during the Middle Ages, where a starving man (Clémenti) eats everything in his path. In Italian with English subtitles. 35mm. (BS)

SALÒ, OR THE 120 DAYS OF SODOM, May 10, 15

SALÒ, OR THE 120 DAYS OF SODOM
(SALO O LE 120 GIORNATE DI SODOMA)
1975, Pier Paolo Pasolini, Italy, 114 min.
With Paolo Bonacelli, Giorgio Cataldi

Saturday, May 10, 5:00 pm
Thursday, May 15, 6:00 pm

One of the most controversial films ever made, Pasolini’s adaptation of Sade is set in the Nazi puppet-state of Salò, where the fascist elite select sixteen young men and women to become their sex slaves in a graphic and morally illustrative tale of lost humanity and the corrupting nature of power.

Note: Adult content may offend some viewers. In Italian with English subtitles. 35mm. (BS)

“Stunning...the must-see cinematic experience of the year.” —Eric Kohn, Indiewire.

Mesmerizing from start to finish, this new documentary from the producers of LEVIATHAN is destined to become an instant cult classic. A cable car swoops and soars through a remote region of Nepal, carrying worshipers and tourists alike to the ancient Hindu shrine of the goddess Manakamana. Part entrancing visual meditation, part ethnographic marvel, the film is a cycle of repeat ten-minute journeys with new passengers, each set of pilgrims adding their humor, awe or silence to the great panorama of life and landscape spread out beneath them. In Nepali and English with English subtitles. DCP digital. (BS)

FIRST CHICAGO RUN! STEPHEN CONE IN PERSON!

BLACK BOX

2013, Stephen Cone, USA, 84 min.
With Josephine Decker, Austin Pendleton

May 30—June 5
Fri. at 8:15 pm;
Sat. at 5:15 pm and 8:00 pm;
Sun. at 3:00 pm;
Mon. at 8:00 pm;
Tue. and Thu. at 6:00 pm;
Wed. at 8:00 pm

Returning to coming-of-age territory following his award-winning THE WISE KIDS, Chicago director Cone brings a haunted twist to this drama set in the on- and offstage world of a college theater production. A grad student elects to adapt a young-adult Gothic novel, rife with sadism, child abuse, and a harrowing exorcism for her directorial debut. The surprise arrival of the novel’s deeply withdrawn author (Pendleton) reshuffles the psychic deck, unwittingly opening a Pandora’s Box of sexual temptations, fears, and suppressed memories among the inexperienced cast. DCP digital.

Director Stephen Cone and selected cast and crew members will be present for audience discussion at all screenings.

“Cone once again captures the quietly awkward moments of floundering young adults.”—Nina Metz, Chicago Tribune

GENE SISKEL FILM CENTER ANNUAL GALA

LE WEEK-END

2013, Roger Michell, UK/France, 93 min.
With Jim Broadbent, Lindsay Duncan

“This late adulthood lark is a treat.”—Bill Stamets, Chicago Sun-Times
Nick and Meg, a graying couple in a rut, take an anniversary jaunt to Paris. Their hotel is a dump, but disaster breeds daring as they max out their credit cards, dine self-indulgently, and get kinky in the bedroom. Will this shake-up save their marriage, or deliver the coup de grâce? Writer Hanif Kureishi (MY BEAUTIFUL LAUNDRETTE) fills the script with sharp dialogue, and d.p. Nathalie Durand (GIRLS CAN’T SWIM) makes Paris look lovely in a fresh way. In English. DCP digital. (MR)

THE LUNCHBOX

(DABBA); 2013, Ritesh Batra, India/France/Germany/USA, 104 min.
With Irrfan Khan, Nimrat Kaur

“Witty and perceptive.”—Mary Houlihan, Chicago Sun-Times
In this crowd-pleasing romantic comedy set in bustling Mumbai, a neglected young wife (the radiant Kaur) prepares a succulent lunch as a way to her husband’s cold heart, but her offering is misdelivered to a widowed paper-pusher (Khan of LIFE OF PI). Further food deliveries facilitate a correspondence between two lonely souls who connect without ever having met...but will they take the next step? In Hindi and English with English subtitles. DCP digital. (MR)

Queen Margot

(LA REINE MARGOT) 1994, Patrice Chereau, France, 159 min.
With Isabelle Adjani, Daniel Auteuil

“A fast-moving and savagely ironic yarn.”—Geoff Andrew, Time Out London
Combining operatic gusto with grimy, gory realism, QUEEN MARGOT gives Adjani a plum role as the sexually voracious Marguerite de Valois (aka Margot), trapped in a passionless marriage of political convenience. Her romantic escapades are played off the Catholic-Protestant conflicts of 17th-century France, which trigger the infamous St. Bartholomew’s Day Massacre. New 4K digital restoration of the director’s cut. In French with English subtitles. DCP digital. (MR)
Lecturer: Bruce Jenkins

We conclude our series of fourteen programs entitled The American New Wave, with weekly Tuesday lecture/discussions by Bruce Jenkins, professor at the School of the Art Institute of Chicago. FIRST CHICAGO RUN!

Just a Sigh

(LE TEMPS DE L’AVENTURE)

2013, Jerome Bonnell, France, 105 min.
With Emmanuelle Devos, Gabriel Byrne

Two strangers lock eyes across the aisle of a Paris-bound train. He (Byrne) is a darkly brooding Englishman; she (Devos) is a flat-broke French actress on a day’s hiatus from the run of a show. The line between running-from and running-to becomes blurred in the course of a day of missed chances and chance encounters that holds the promise of passion and maybe something more in the anonymity of a hotel room. In French and English with English subtitles. DCP digital. (BS)

VARIETY

1983, Bette Gordon, USA, 97 min.
With Sandy McLeod, Richard Davidson

Saturday, May 3, 5:15 pm
Tuesday, May 6, 6:00 pm

A pioneering post-feminist indie, VARIETY is a product of the 1980s New York downtown movement. With a screenplay by punk-lit luminary Kathy Acker, it tells the story of Christine (McLeod), a recent NYC arrival who takes a job as ticket-seller at a porn theater and becomes drawn to its sleazy milieu. 35mm. (MR)

CONTINUING MAY

HATESHIP LOVESHIP

2013, Lisa Johnson, USA, 101 min.
With Kristen Wiig, Guy Pearce

The Films of Shellie Fleming
1989-1999, Shellie Fleming, USA, ca. 110 min.
Saturday, May 10, 12:00 pm

Fiercely intelligent, generous, and caring, filmmaker and artist Shellie Fleming passed away in December. Organized by SAIC’s Department of Film, Video, New Media, and Animation in celebration of Fleming’s life and influence, this program gathers together four of her best-known films, including the incomparable LIFE/EXPECTANCY (1999). 16mm. (Amy Beste)

A reception for attendees follows the screening.

CHICAGO PREMIERE!

ILO ILO

2013, Anthony Chen, Singapore, 99 min.
With Koh Jia Ler, Angeli Bayani

Winner of the Camera d’Or at Cannes, the prestigious prize for best first feature, ILO ILO unfolds a bittersweet story with a sly sense of humor. A Singaporean couple clinging precariously to middle-class status hires Terry, a Filipina maid, as live-in nanny for their 10-year-old hell-raiser son. Facing down snootiness, duplicity, and bullying within the family’s comically askew dynamic, Terry stealthily manages to anchor a place in one naughty boy’s heart. In Mandarin, Tagalog, English, and Hokkien with English subtitles. DCP digital. (BS)
